

Late Spring!

After a long winter, we have also had a long cool spring! Yes there are always issues that complicate scheduling opportunities for collecting aerial imagery. Luckily, most of the time with adequate lead time we can get photo flights accomplished in reasonable time. The spring season and it's normal weather often includes cloudy and/or windy weather. However with a bit of lead time we can schedule spring aerial photography projects to show sites with detail not obstructed by vegetation. If you have a site needing oblique or vertical aerial photos and/or mapping please let us know ASAP so we can make plans, set up the flight lines and/or schedule the flight with plenty of time to take advantage of the best possible weather conditions.

Please let us know if you need any aerial photography so we can add your site to our spring and early summer flight schedule!